Swedish sailor 1868-1899

Respectable Genealogiska Föreningen, I am an italian university student who is doing a family tree research in sparetime.

I found italian documents recording a Swedish citizen. I want pass what I have to you, if it can be useful in further researches.

Alfred Westerland, Swedish sailor, died on 3 am of 14th March 1899 in Town Hospital of Savona (North West Italy), in a building near the today Corso italia. He was 31, born and living in Stockholm.

Probably he was buried in the Town cemetery but being so far from relatives and considering the rude times, the grave was lost.

I think so because of my great-greatgrandfather, whose bones were lost in 1920s in his birthplace (a town in peacetime!) and my research years ago on First World War Austrian prisoners, who were considered foreigners and they were transferred in the town ossuary.

Thanking for the kind attention, I wish an happy 2024

Sincerely yours

Matteo D'Angella
